FAIR DIRECTORS FACE VARIED AGENDA TUESDAY

PORTERVILLE — For the general public Porterville Fair time is not until May 21, 22, and 23, but it's fair time right now for directors who will meet Tuesday, 7:30 p.m., in the Southern California Edison Company Living center to go through a varied agenda that will include most aspects of the fair.

Plans will be made for paint-up and clean-up of the grounds and facilities in anticipation of the May fair; reports will be heard on probable demands for livestock exhibit space; Porterville Jaycee representatives will report on sale of indoor and outdoor exhibit space; Loren Schmid will report on progress made in securing special military exhibits.

Professional outdoor show that will be a nightly feature of the fair will be discussed, also special attractions for the 1970 fair; report from the Porterville Fair Quarter Horse Show committee will be given on progress of the open Quarter Horse show set for May 21; plans for the fair's annual gymkhana, market livestock auction, and special judging events will be discussed, along with ideas for general improvement of the fair.

And information will be presented concerning the 160 acres of farm land that was bequeathed to the fair board by the late Pearle Zalud.

Theme for the 1970 fair is "Salute To Farming and Freedom," with commercial exhibits to be judged for ribbon awards on a basis of attention to theme and general excellence of displays.

Management Plan Set Up For Golden Trout Area

PORTERVILLE — A new management plan for 166,000 acres that includes the native range of the Golden trout has been recommended by Jim James, supervisor of the Sequoia National forest and Joe Radel, supervisor of the Inyo National forest, as a result of hearings last September in Bakersfield and Bishop.

On the basis of testimony at these hearings, the Forest supervisors have recommended to the Regional Forester that the Golden Trout area, in the two forests, be evaluated for Wilderness at the earliest possible time.

In the meantime, management direction will be designed to fully protect the wilderness characteristics of the area, including exclusion of all

Bob Fields, general chairman for the week, says that events are being coordinated with the Springville-Sierra rodeo, set for Saturday and Sunday, April 18-19.

Fields says that all merchants attending the Monday noon meeting will receive a free pass to the Springville rodeo, also a Western Week badge.

As for events that are being considered, a parade, music on the street, shoot-outs, a bank holdup, Doc Small's Medicine show, western dress and western theme in stores are all on the agenda - plus suggestions from any dudes and city slickers who have ideas.

Participating in Western Week will be the merchants of Greater Porterville - West Olive, the Village Shopping center, and downtown Porterville.

SIERRA AVIATION EXPANDS INTO NEW BUILDING IN MAJOR DEVELOPMENT AT MUNICIPAL AIRPORT

10-Acre Site Fronts On Scranton Avenue

PORTERVILLE — Sierra Aviation this week marked seven years of successful operation on the Porterville Municipal airport by moving into a new building, constructed by the company, on the north edge of the airport.

The new metal building, completely insulated, has total floor space of 37,200 square feet, including a hangar area; a helicopter component overhaul shop; a sheet metal shop; a machine shop; an inventory, shipping and receiving, and quality-assurance area; and office space.

Constructed by The Vicco Company, of Porterville, the new building project represents an investment of some $187,000.

Roy Gates, president and general manager of Sierra Aviation, says that the new building is located on a 10-acre parcel and that the company holds an option to purchase an additional 10 acres, anticipating continued expansion. Sierra is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Data-Design Labratories, of Cucamonga.

Company personnel moved office furniture and equipment from the former Sierra Aviation facility, near the center of Porterville airport development, during the past weekend.

Jerry Barnes, administrative assistant to Gates, says that inventory moving is now underway and will be completed by April 15. He says all machinery will be moved between March 26 and 29, and that all hookups will be completed and full-scale operations started in the new building by March 30.

The 16,200 square-foot hangar area in the new building is designed for initial receiving and final assembly of helicopters, with work-flow channelled through a 3,150 square-foot component repair shop, a 3,680 square-foot sheet metal shop, a 3,150 square-foot machine shop and a 6,570 square-foot inventory, shipping and receiving and quality-assurance area.

Through special construction, this latter area can be doubled in useable space "by going up," Barnes says. Eighty-foot, full-clearance doors provide access to the building's hangar area.

Twenty offices, including seven executive offices, are provided for in 4,800 square feet

History Turns Back To 1857 (Some Say) When Jackass Mail Hits The 190 Trail

PORTERVILLE — History, in a way, will turn back to 1857 when the Jackass Mail makes its annual run, April 11, from Porterville to Springville.

It was 113 years ago that the San Antonio and San Diego Mail line established regular, twice-a-month service between California and Texas. Because stages were pulled by mules, and because through one stretch of desert passengers rode mules, the line became known as the Jackass Mail.

Fare was $200.00, and in an early-day ad the company said, "Passenger and Express matter forwarded in New Coaches, drawn by six mules over the entire length of our line, excepting the Colorado Desert of 100 miles, which we cross on mule back."

The term, Jackass Mail, caught on with pioneers, and was often applied to the feeder lines that operated off main stage lines into the mining and logging areas of central California.

Modern version of the Jackass Mail will hit the trail from the Porterville city hall at 8:00 a.m., or thereabouts, on April 11; route will be generally east toward the mountains; barbecue

Editorial Comment

LET'S HAVE A COMMUNITY CENTER... BUT LET'S FACE SOME FACTS

We are in favor of developing a community center building in Porterville - a building that is so constructed that it can adequately house "small convention" types of meetings and can serve as a social recreation center for organizations of the entire community.

But before the present inadequate community center campaign goes any further, we believe that folks should clearly understand a few facts:

Even though the campaign to raise $30,000 from community organizations succeeds, and even though the Porterville city council sees fit to add another $30,000 to the $30,000 that is presently more-or-less committed, there is no assurance that Porterville will get a community center.

The reason? Balance of an estimated $302,000 needed for a community center building is expected to come through the Federal Neighborhood Facilities program, in which the Federal government contributes two-thirds of the cost.

But, this program is designed to provide a community center in "poor sections" in "poverty areas," in concentrated ethnic group population centers where no comparable facilities are available. And tied in is a welfare concept as to use of the center.

It is not designed to provide a social center for an affluent community; we do not believe that a need exists in Porterville for a Neighborhood Facility under the Federal government concept.

In fact the city administration is trying to build a case in which Porterville sets up its standards, then attempts to con the federal government out of money that was intended only partially for use as Porterville wants to use it.

We doubt that the city can make this stick. If it can, the administration of Neighborhood Facility money is being more than somewhat loosely administered.

So, what to do?

1. The city administration should quit drifting, cancel out the ad hoc, community center committee, and set up an official city committee.

2. The possibility of greater use of the Porterville Armory building should most certainly be thoroughly checked out. This building is being used only a few hours a month, what with Porterville now having only a single Infantry platoon, and with company headquarters in Tulare.

3. Although, because of financial situation, there is not much likelihood that the Porterville Union High School district could purchase the Porterville Memorial auditorium now, certainly this is worth serious discussion, with money from such a sale to go back into a community center, built by the Porterville Memorial district.

4. People of the City of Porterville, through an official city committee, should be presented some facts of tax life, and some facts about priorities in city development - is $30,000 or $60,000 for a community center a top priority expenditure? Not in our book.

5. If it is determined that people of Porterville really want a community center, then let's face up to a tax increase specifically earmarked to finance construction - still seeking organization contributions and outside governmental sources of money if such are available for construction of a real community center building.

6. If there is a legitimate need for the welfare type programs envisioned in connection with the currently-talked community center, there is considerable building space available now in Porterville for such programs.

WE THE PEOPLE

The comments in this column are not necessarily the views of the editors and publishers of The Farm Tribune.

Tulare County, like all levels of State and Federal Government, has problems that have been brought on by laws demanding we satisfy all the social needs of our population. Many directives have not been properly funded by higher levels and the county taxpayer has been left with many unjust costs.

One of these is the entire hospital system in our county, not just Springville, which has been a glaring example of inefficiency because of management and as the 1963 Moore Report stated, "30 buildings on 45 acres resulting in a poor hospital aggravated by a poor site."

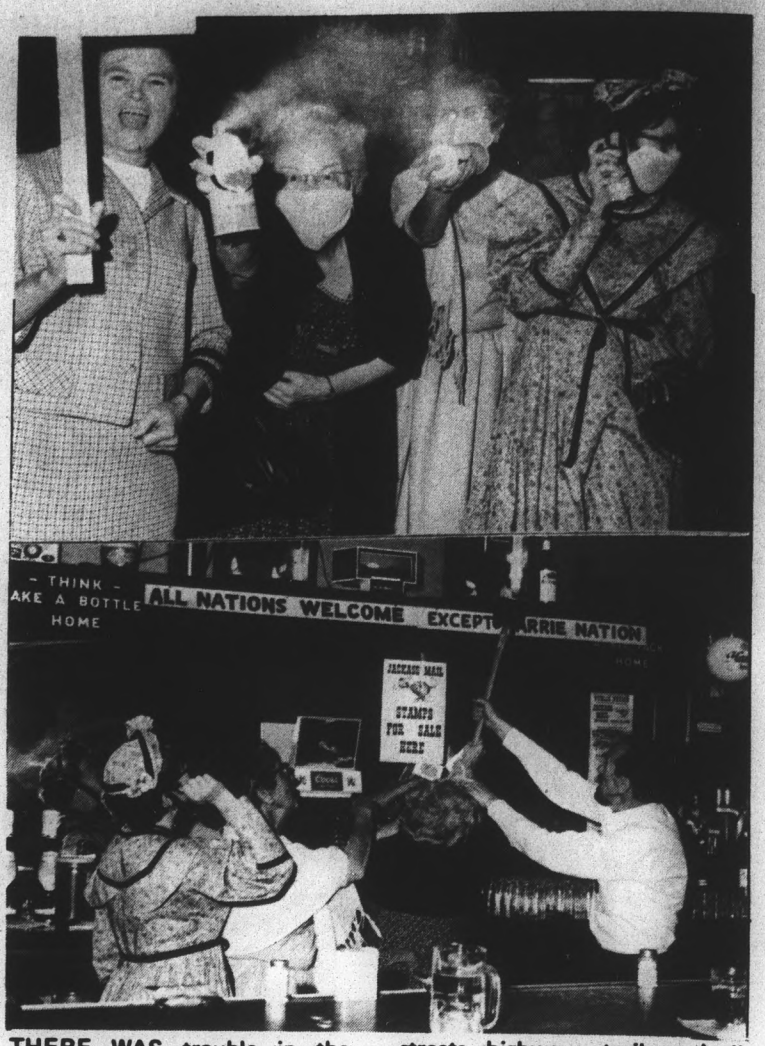

A recent news article stated there had been a bid for this site of over a million dollars; this is not fact only rumor. Because of an objection by Supervisor Muller, no bids have been invited, only ten feelers to interested industry have been sent. According to our County Administrator some favorable answers have been received.

If a cooperative, rather than the usual argumentive approach to this total county problem, could be effected by our County Supervisors, and the phasing out methods outlined by the April, 1969 Study Committee on the Tulare County Hospitals could be used as a guide, the answers to the entire problem could be in the offing by July this year. If the Springville site is to be sold, leased to another agency, or whatever tax saving routes are decided upon, this would cease to be much of a campaign issue.

I don't care to make many challenges on items of business, their handling, or what should have been done, especially when I'm not present to hear all the testimony.

My present participation on the several boards including the Tulare County Planning commission, has always been one of cooperation in seeking the most effective application of money spent and sensible use of the rules that govern us, so that we can survive our social changes and have a county that progresses with the rest of the West, instead of being passed up because we didn't invite the outside world to play here, to manufacture here, or to live here in this one most beautiful county in the U.S.

Howard K. Nielsen,
Candidate For Supervisor,
Fifth District, Tulare Co.

THERE WAS trouble in the Mountain Lion saloon last Friday night, as an orderly meeting of the non-existent Jackass Mail committee was rudely interrupted by Zealous Zoe and her girls - Willetta, Harriett, and Martha, who have apparently joined forces with the Environmental Control and Anti-Pollution League of the Southern Sierra, an organization dedicated to the principle of keeping the Jackass Mail off streets, highways, trails and all elsewhere. These undesireables sprayed the saloon with disinfectant new-air, then took exception to a most hospitable sign back of the bar, "All Nations Welcome Except Carrie Nation." As can be plainly seen, Barkeep B.J. Ladd had his troubles. Upshot of the unfortunate evening was that no wagon master has been selected as yet. (Farm Tribune photos) roads, vehicular travel, and timber harvesting. Fish control and habitat improvement measures will be undertaken only in a manner that will not detract from wilderness value.

MANAGEMENT PLAN

Although included in the new management area, existing improvements at Tunnel Meadow, Grasshopper flat, and Rifle creek will remain, but are not to be expanded, pending final and formal public hearings and Congressional evaluation of the management plan.

The area in question is generally bordered on the north by the Sequoia National Park line; west line swings in south of Mineral King, near Vandever mountain, following the high ridge that includes Quinn peak, Soda Butte, Sheep mountain, Maggie mountain and Mowery meadow; south line generally extends east from Mowery meadow to Angora mountain, then just north of Willow meadow across Hole in the Ground, up to Kern peak along the Toowa range and Brown mountain to Olancha peak; east line is generally the Tulare county line.

Opposition has already been voiced by trail machine clubs, since included in the new management area is Grasshopper flat that has been open to trail machines. Under the new plan, trail machines will not be allowed in this area, their limit being Willow meadow.

We Only Heard

BY BILL RODGERS

SEZ WHO!

WE SUGGEST that these two words be kept in mind and referred to often during the next several months, what with the season of political hassling upon us.

IF POLITICIANS run true to form - and they usually do while campaigning, even though their form may change after election - we the people can expect a barrage of political statements, designed to bring glory to the good guys and to heap abuse on the bad guys, rather than to present a thoughtful and analytical dissertation concerning issues and candidates. Who the good guys are and who the bad guys are depends upon what and who an individual reader or listener is for or against.

FOR INSTANCE, news stories a few days ago quoted Mrs. Margaret Lemmer, of San Diego, president of the California Teachers' association as referring to the Reagan administration's tax reform bill, introduced by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, as the "Bagley Tax Abortion Bill," and called it a "crass, crude, and complicated conglomeration of political sleight-of-hand."

SEZ WHO?

WE SUGGEST that such crass, crude and unlady-like political verbage did not really come from a teacher who has risen to the presidency of her state association. Certainly, we hope it didn't. We suspect that the words were coined by Whitaker & Baxter, a highly skilled, capable, and expensive public relations firm that has been hired to promote passage of Proposition 8, also a tax reform measure with a shot of welfare reform thrown in, that is backed by the unlikely coalition of the California Teachers' association and the California Supervisors' association.

PROPOSITION 8 IS not a sound tax reform measure because the proposition does not say where revenue will come from to finance provisions of the proposition.

SEZ WHO?

MEMBERS OF the California State Board of Equalization, that's who.

BY APPLYING the Sez Who technique, it becomes obvious that two points of view are being expressed on the particular issue of Proposition 8, one by a state board that should carry some weight when tax reform is the issue; the other by a public relations firm hired to promote passage of the proposition.

SO IT will be in this political year - strongly worded pros and strongly worded cons. Voters will do well to listen to all statements, to all sides, then after asking and determining Sez Who, think a little about motives involved, about politics involved, about possible reasons for conflicting statements, then come to a thoughtful and informed voting decision rather than a propagandized decision. It's tough to do in these modern times, but those two little words, if used properly, will help.

SEZ WHO?

WELL, NOW, We Only Heard.

Humane Society Says Give Toys At Easter Time

Society reports show that each year hundreds of these small animals are innocently crushed to death by the loving hands of small children.

Humane society officials urge parents to give toys at Easter, not living creatures.

beef lunch will be served along the way by members of the Tulare County Cow Belles; Porterville Elks lodge band will provide music enroute; great festivities will mark the leaving of the mail from Porterville, its arrival in Springville, and at all and sundry points enroute.

Official units of the Mail are the mail wagon, the Elks' band wagon, and a press and committee wagon. All other persons are invited to join in at their own risk and volition, either on horseback or with horse drawn vehicles; no motorized units are allowed.

In other years as many as 400 riders and 15 wagons have made the trek. There is no sign-up - trail tramps and saddle bums only need to show up and start moving.

On sale in Porterville and Springville are Jackass Mail postage, and mailed in a special box at the Porterville chamber of commerce office, will be moved in a strong box aboard the Jackass Mail wagon to Springville, where they will be delivered to the Springville postoffice and sent from there to the point of address.

The Jackass Mail run is directed by a committee on which no one will admit membership but which is rumored to be associated with the Springville and Porterville chambers of commerce. While it is generally conceded that the running of the Jackass Mail is without doubt a historic commemorative event of something more than surpassing magnitude, certain unstudied individuals are reported as having said that the modern Jackass Mail does have a tendency to fracture history just a bit.

As in past years, representatives of the Tulare County Humane society will patrol the route of the mail to assure that horses are not abused in any manner.

LOAN PROGRAM WOULD ENCOURAGE RURAL AREA DOCTORS

SACRAMENTO – Legislation designed to encourage newly graduated physicians to practice in California's rural areas has been introduced by Assemblyman Gordon Duffy.

Assembly Bill 942 would create a loan program for medical students and incorporate a special "forgiveness" feature for those physicians who practice in areas of the state in which there is a shortage of physician services.

BEN RAY, left, chief of Camp Nelson Volunteer Fire Department, accepts keys to new, $27,500 fire truck from Tulare County Supervisor Raymond Muller, at dedication ceremonies held last Saturday at Camp Nelson fire station. The mountain resort marked arrival of the new fire truck with a luncheon provided by local fire department auxiliary. The truck, a 750-gallon-a-minute pumper, made by Van Pelt, is considered the "Cadillac" of fire engines. The wilderness fire station is a joint operation of county and state and serves several hundred vacation cabins as well as year around homes in the area.

Sierra Aviation is being developed as a one-step helicopter center. The firm has won numerous commendations for speed and quality of service, and has been awarded an FFA Helicopter Repair Station certificate and a Military Manufacturing authorization, the latter rating clearing the company for production of military helicopter components.

As a one-stop service center, Sierra will be capable of meeting the total service requirement of small helicopters. Actually, the new facility can handle any helicopter manufactured in America, except the giant Sikorsky Sky Crane.

In working toward the status of a one-stop service center, Sierra Aviation increased its parts inventory by 60 per cent during the past year, and the more than 20,000 component parts and accessories it now carries represents one of the largest inventories of helicopter spare parts in the nation.

Sierra's customers include governmental and military agencies, private and commerical helicopter owners and operators, and commercial overhaul shops in the United States as well as in some 22 foreign countries.

In its present business form, Sierra Aviation has operated on the Porterville Municipal airport since 1963, when the business, then a borate operation, was purchased by Jim Meade, who was later joined in the business by Gates and Ed Trupe. On June 30, 1968, Sierra was purchased on a pooling of interest basis by Data-Design.

The new facility fronts on Scranton avenue, a half-mile west of Newcomb. Airport buildings formerly occupied as Sierra's operation center will now be used for storage, warehousing, and some processing work.

Save your money. It may be worth something someday.

EASTER SERVICES IN SIERRA

CAMP NELSON – This mountain resort will observe two Easter morning services on Sunday, March 29.

The community of Pierpoint Springs will have an outdoor service at 8 a.m., followed by a pancake breakfast.

The Camp Nelson community chapel will be the setting for the second service, scheduled for 11 a.m. Robert Matzke, of Porterville, will speak at both services.

Jan and Gordon Kay, of Springville, will provide music and lead in group singing.

An Easter egg hunt for children will be held at Pierpoint Springs at 1:30 p.m. Camp Nelson Lodge will serve Easter dinner.

In the event of inclement weather the Pierpoint Springs morning service will be held inside.

John Lewis, president of the Western High Sierra association, said that the area is alive with the color of blossoming Redbud trees.

According to legend, the Redbud tree was the tree on which Judas hanged himself. Thus it is also known as the Judas tree. It bears small, budlike pink flowers and is one of the first mountain trees to bloom each Spring.

Land Bank Official Predicts Increase In Demand For Long-Term Farm Credit

PORTERVILLE – Arthur M. Falconer, of Porterville, president of the Federal Land Bank Association of Visalia; Claude Paregien, vice president; Directors John Burr, Jr., Vernon Hutsell, and William H. Wake; Manager Phillip S. Wright, assistant managers Ken Billings and Laurence R. Walter, and appraiser Joe Akkerman have returned from Monterey where they attended the annual meeting of stockholders of the Federal Land Bank of Berkeley.

Economic aspects of changes in agriculture, cost of loan funds, and methods to further improve the credit services of the bank and associations were the principal subjects discussed at the meeting. This was one of three regional meetings being held by the Land Bank for its stockholders, the 35 land bank associations that serve Arizona, California, Nevada, Utah, and Hawaii.

Arvin E. Boerlin, president of the Berkeley land bank, in reporting on lending activities stated that the $81 million loaned in 1969 was the fifth largest volume for any one year in the bank's 53-year history. He added that the outstanding loan balance reached an all-time high of $516 million at the end of the year, almost double what it was five years ago.

Boerlin predicted a substantial increase in the demand for long-term farm credit again this year. He pointed out that while money costs have continued to increase over the last three years, the Land Bank has always had adequate funds to meet the long-term credit needs of the farmers and ranchers in the five-state area.

VEEMAN & SONS COW IS HIGH

We have examined the accounting records and the financial transactions of the Porterville Irrigation District for the year ended December 31, 1969. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, the accompanying Combined Funds Balance Sheet with supporting schedules, and the related Statement of Income present fairly the financial position of the Porterville Irrigation District at December 31, 1969, and the results of its operations for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.
